Dear Parishioners,

Humility! This was the episcopal motto of Saint Charles Borromeo, the Archbishop of the prestigious Archdiocese of Milan, Italy, who died in 1584. Saint Charles was an example of great humility and inspired others to be humble as well. Humility was no easy accomplishment for this very educated and refined Bishop of the Church. Yet, with God’s help, humility is one of his legacies. I highlight Saint Charles because many of us can listen to this Sunday’s Gospel invitation to be humble and think it is not possible for a number of reasons. We just cannot get that close to the ground (the Latin root of the word humility). However, Jesus is clear in his directive for his followers. “For everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, but the one who humbles himself will be exalted (Luke 14, 11).” One of the greatest helps to humility is an association with the poor—going out of our way for someone in need. This keeps us close to the ground!

We are truly blessed to have a very fine liturgical music program here at our Cathedral Parish. However, it is important to keep in mind that the greatest instrument that assists with singing the Mass is the human voice. And, the most important liturgical song is that which occurs between the priest and the people. This is the reason why we give emphasis to singing the dialogues between the priest and the people during Sunday Mass. I encourage you to sing with confidence these responses to the priest celebrant as you do when you speak these same responses. Next Sunday, September 8, 2019, we will begin to sing again the second form of the Penitential Act—Have mercy on us, O Lord—which we did last Fall and also introduce the singing of the Pray Brethren before the Prayer over the Offerings. Both of these parts of the Mass will be in the worship aid and the cantor will review them before Mass.

This Monday, September 2, 2019 is Labor Day. Mass will be celebrated at 9:00 AM in the Cathedral Chapel. Following Mass, everyone is welcome to join in praying the Holy Rosary at the Queen of Apostles Garden directly behind the Basilica. The Basilica and Parish Office will be closed on Labor Day.

Next Sunday, September 8, 2019, the Archbishop will celebrate the 11:00 AM Solemn Mass for those in the Archdiocese of Philadelphia who are marking their Jubilees as Religious Priests, Brothers and Sisters. Many of the Jubilarians will be present for this Mass and will also renew their vows. These Jubilarians represent thousands of years of dedicated service to Jesus and his Church. This is an occasion for us to give thanks for the presence of Religious in our lives and for their generous service to us. Our own Sister Eleanor McCann, RSM, celebrates a Jubilee of sixty years. On Saturday, September 7, 2019, Sister Eleanor will commemorate her Jubilee and renew her vows at our 12:05 PM Mass in the Cathedral Chapel. Please join me in prayers of thanksgiving for Sister Eleanor and her vocation as a Religious Sister of Mercy. God bless you, Sister Eleanor!

Next Sunday, the second collection will be directed to the national collection for the Black and Indian Missions. If possible, please make use of the on-line possibility of making your weekly offering. Thank you so very much for all your goodness and generosity to the Cathedral Parish and to the Appeal for Catholic Charities.

God bless you,
Father Dennis Gill

DO YOU HAVE QUESTIONS ABOUT THE CATHOLIC FAITH?

The Cathedral Parish offers year round opportunities for people seeking more information about the Catholic Faith, the Sacraments and living the Christian Life. These opportunities are for adults who would like to inquire about following Jesus and becoming a member of the Catholic Church, or who are already baptized Christians and would like to become Catholic, or who are already baptized Catholics and would like to receive Confirmation and Holy Communion. There are many people like yourself inquiring, and we are ready to answer your questions. Please contact Edward Specht, Coordinator of Religious Education at cathedralreligiouseducation@gmail.com

VERDADEROS GANADORES

Diferentes versiones de esta peque1a prueba han estado circulando en la Internet por un tiempo. En realidad no tienes que pasar la prueba; s3lo leer las preguntas y te dar3s cuenta de su prop3sito. Sin ver las respuestas—sin trampa—mira a ver si sabes lo siguiente:

1. Las cinco personas m3s ricas del mundo.
2. Los 3ltimos cinco ganadores del trofeo Heisman.
3. Las cinco 3ltimas ganadoras del concurso de Miss Am3rica.
4. Los 3ltimos cinco ganadores del Premio Nobel o del
Premio Pulitzer.
5. Los 3ltimos cinco ganadores de “3scares” por mejores actores o actrices.
6. Los ganadores de la Serie Mundial durante la 3ltima d3cada.

¿C3mo te fue? ¿Te perdiste en algunas o en todas las categor3as? El caso es que ninguno de nosotros recordamos a todos los que han hecho noticia en el pasado. Esas personas son las mejores en sus propios campos de experiencia, pero los aplausos cesan, los trofeos y medallas pierden su brillo, los logros se ol-vidan, y los tributos y certificados quedan enterrados con sus due1os.

Aqu3 tienes otra peque1a prueba. A ver qu3 tal te va en 3sta. Las respuestas a las siguientes preguntas son 3nica y personalmente tuyas. Menciona sus nombres:

1. Los cuatro maestros que m3s te ayudaron durante tus tiempos escolares.
2. Tres amigos que te ayudaron durante un tiempo dif3cil.
3. Cuatro personas que te han ense1ado algo que vale la pena.
4. Seis personas que te han hecho sentir amado y apreciado.
5. Cinco personas que les gusta pasar tiempo contigo.
6. Seis santos o santas, h3roes o hero3nas que te han inspirado.

¿Fue m3s f3cil? Tal vez te acordaste de a3n m3s personas a medida que hac3as memoria. Este peque1o ejercicio demuestra que las personas que han marcado una diferencia en nuestra vida no son aque-llas con m3s credenciales, m3s dinero o m3s premios, sino m3s bien las que nos han demostrado su cari1o. Sus acciones pesan tanto como sus palabras.

Evangelization

Getting "Unstuck" in the Spiritual Life

Two Sundays ago, our First Reading and our Gospel encouraged us to consider the burning love that Jesus has for us in his desire to bring us freedom, and the father's love. As he said: "I have come to set the earth on fire, and how I wish it were already blazing!"¹ One of the ways by which that love is communicated to us is through the sacraments of the Church.

In Baptism that burning love purges our hearts of original sin and any actual sins committed up to that time if we were baptized as adults. As we know, however, we can sometimes douse that flame by way of our subsequent falling into the same old habits and sins to which our fallen nature is vulnerable. Recognizing this leaning in our hearts, the Lord does not beat us up over our sins but offers to overwhelm them with even more love; removing the guilt incurred, again opening the way to eternal life in heaven by the grace sanctifying grace revived in and through the Sacrament of Reconciliation.

The first reading from that Sunday (Jer 38:4-6, 8-10) was especially helpful as we examine the plight of Jeremiah the prophet, "stuck" in the mud. The prophets of Israel often become a sign to the people of Israel not only in their words but in their very person. A little background may be helpful.

The kingdom of Judah is on the verge of being overrun by the Chaldeans. Zedekiah the king of Judah is doing everything to avert the surrender and conquering of his kingdom. For a time, his efforts seem to work. God's word to his people as communicated through his prophet, Jeremiah, on the other hand, calls on the people to do something radically counter-intuitive, he calls upon them to surrender and by so doing, save their lives. This doesn't sit well with the people and they decide to rid themselves of him by casting him into a cistern holding not water, i.e. not doing what a cistern ought to do, but rather mud. Into that mud the prophet sinks down and is "stuck".

One of the king's servants has pity on Jeremiah, intercedes for him with the king and pulls him from the muddy mess with the help of three nameless men. Jeremiah will draw from his experience of being stuck to communicate to the king his people's future if they should not surrender. The king and his people are "stuck." In sin, we too are "stuck." Surrender however, and acknowledging our misery in the mire is the beginning of our being rescued. The recognition, rather than discouraging us ought to inspire us to rejoice.

St. Bernard once said: "Is it possible for such wretchedness to make a many happy?" Whoever you are, if you are in this frame of mind, do not despair: it is mercy not misery, that makes a man happy, but mercy's natural home is misery. [...] Sickness has real utility when it leads to the doctor's hands, and he whom God restores to health gains by having been ill."²

In the Sacrament of Reconciliation, we see not three nameless men coming to our rescue to pull us from the mire, as Jeremiah did, but the Father, Son and Holy Spirit. Doing so they do not promise us a carefree, suffering-free life, but something so much more: a new life, a resurrected life. Next week we will consider what can help us recognize those areas of our lives wherein we are stuck and so best cooperate with the Father, Son and Holy Spirit in order to be truly free.
